the European Commission, in 2009, as evaluator of research projects on issues of world urbanisation and urban policy;

the Commission for tourism training and hospitality culture, since its institution in 2009 by the Italia Minister for Tourism, on. Michela V. Brambilla, as a member of the Commission.

the Ministry of university and research, as evaluator of research projects.

several universities and research Units, as responsible of research Unit within national research programmes, co-funded by the Italian Ministry of the University and Research, and as national coordinator.

Regarding university administration and management, and organisational works, I can mention the followings:

- I had to supervise as Faculty Dean, about 150 teaching, research and administrative staff, and about 2000 students.
- As Secretary of a local party from 1979 to 1985, I managed the political activities of the party. Acting as its international relations officer, I was also responsible for promoting and realising political initiatives related to Italian foreign relations, disarmament, peace and development, human rights, etc.
- As President of the Piedmont Branch of the Italian Association of Geography Teachers (more than 250 members), from 1975 to 1979, I was responsible for the organisation of many conferences and other programs.
- As a member of the Study Group on Trade Globalisation of the International Geographical Union, I participate in the planning and organisation of activity programs.
- I coordinated for the Faculty of Economics of the Eastern Piedmont University: from 1999 to 2008, the Degree Course on “Business Economics” implemented in Casale Monferrato since 1999; and, from 2001 to 2004, the new Degree Course on “Tourism Promotion and Management” implemented in Novara.
- I promote and organize since 2001 the “Tourism Days”, an annual Italian meeting of researchers, decision-makers and entrepreneurs in tourism
- I promoted the foundation of the Geoprogress NGO in 2011
- I organised, as Rector Delegate of Asmara University (Eritrea), an Italian university network to support and assist the development of that University;
- I worked as Faculty Dean and Member of the Commission “Development and Planning” of the University of Turin, to build a new University in Piedmont (Italy); and as a Member of the “Research Commission” of the University of Turin, than as Head of the Department of Business and Regional Studies of the new University of Eastern Piedmont, to the reorganisation and promotion of research activities.
- I elaborated and implemented, as International Relation Officer of the University of Turin, new co-operation projects with some universities in Developing Countries (e.g. University of Asmara, Eritrea; University of Addis Ababa, Ethiopia; University of Douala, Cameroon).
- I co-ordinated inquiries about professional profiles aimed at elaborating reorganisation proposals of the curricula of Italian University studies, in order to make them comparable with the curricula of other European Countries, and above all consistent with the labour market’s evolution and with the social needs brought about by the new challenges of the contemporary world.
- Since the beginning of my academic life, I have collaborated with Italian trade unions, voluntary associations (ACLI, CGIL and CISL) and political parties at regional, national and international level.
- I collaborated with the IPALMO (Istituto per l’America-Latina e il Medio-Oriente), the CESPI (Centro Studi di Politica Internazionale), the IILA (Istituto Italo-Latino Americano), the Istituto Italiano per l’Africa (now ISIAO) and other similar governmental and non-governmental advisory institutions, in the preparation of political proposals and laws for peace, development and environmental security, since the end of 1970’s.

For my experience in research management and policy, in 1996 I was the Italian Candidate, proposed by the Italian Government, for the place of Rector of the United Nations University (UNU) in Tokyo (Japan).
